Expertise

Montgomery & Andrews' attorneys offer manufacturers strong services in the defense of product liability litigation. Although we are pleased to act as local counsel, Montgomery & Andrews has also first-chaired the defense of various medical devices, ATVs, de-icing chemicals, glass containers and recreational equipment. As local counsel, we have worked primarily on automobile products liability cases, actively participating in the trials of cases. The firm offers lawyers who have focused litigation on expert witnesses and the use of scientific testimony, including successful Daubert and Kumho challenges to experts. We also are very experienced in issues involving removal of cases to Federal court and venue issues within the New Mexico state court system.
