Expertise

Montgomery & Andrews advises individuals and businesses on state and local tax compliance and planning, including representation of clients before state and local governments on state and local tax issues including property tax, gross receipts and compensating tax, natural resource taxes, liquor excise tax and business credits.

We have represented clients before the Taxation and Revenue Department, County Valuation Protest Boards, and in state courts on tax refund claims. Through our experience with the Taxation and Revenue Department and local government groups, we are often able to provide valuable insight into the rule-making and enforcement strategies of these governmental entities.
